Abstract

In the process of the magnificent development of the Communist Party of China, the political quality of loyalty to the Party is an important measure to promote the all-round development of the great systematic project of Party building. Reviewing the history, the rich picture of loyalty to the Party with firm ideals and beliefs in the leadership of the revolution, construction, reform, rejuvenation of various historical periods, has achieved remarkable results: to strengthen the ideals and beliefs of the Party, to enhance the fighting effectiveness and cohesion of the whole party; shape the political soul of the party, consolidate the unity and unity of the whole party; purify the political ecology of the Party, forge the political discipline and rules of the whole party. One hundred years of loyalty to the party has accumulated rich valuable experience: loyalty to the party to the adhere to the leadership of the Party, resolutely do “two maintenance” in the first place, loyalty to the party to fight dedication, firmly establish “responsibility as” into practice; loyalty to the party must be “people first” throughout the whole work.

Ideal and belief are an essential element for a Communist in shaping his own soul, and also the spiritual pillar of entrepreneurship. The Chinese Communists, who took the initiative in the revolutionary war era, took national independence and people’s liberation as their goal, and became an advocate and vanguard with advanced revolutionary ideas and theories. In the new era of comprehensively governing the Party with strict discipline, Party members and cadres’ loyalty to the Party focuses more on Party members consciously following the objective requirements of the CPC Party Constitution, Party rules and Party discipline in order to realize the lofty vision of communism. Looking back at the Party’s century-old struggle in revolution, development and reform, keeping firm in its ideals and convictions and being loyal to the Party and the people have always been the mainstream and main line that runs throughout the century-old history. Combined with the development trend of the trend and the second one hundred goals, comprehensive system of our communists firm ideal faith education and loyal thought and practice, earnestly summarize experience wisdom, to strengthen the party’s own construction, forever the vitality and vitality of the proletarian party, so as to unity to lead the people of all ethnic groups to realize the “Chinese dream”.

1. HISTORICAL REVIEW OF THE PRIMARY POLITICAL QUALITY OF CHINESE COMMUNISTS OVER THE PAST HUNDRED YEARS

Every different historical era has given the Communist Party of China a new vitality. Many outstanding Communist Party members have made great sacrifices for the development of the cause of the Party and the liberation of the people. The firm ideal faith as the core essence of training education party members and cadres on the basis of also the loyalty to the party as the primary task of the party to strengthen its own construction, gradually in different era environment as the proletarian party political, ideological, organization, discipline and system foundation, is the important content of the proletarian party organization and fighting effectiveness.

1.1 The Establishment and Formation of the New Democratic Revolution Period

According to the classical discussion of Marxist party building theory, the founders of the early Communist Party of China took their belief in communism and loyalty to the Party as an important criterion for developing Party members. The first official document of the party in July 1, 1921. "Mao Zedong stressed that Communists should be honest people, be honest and do practical things." (The Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 2003, p.2114) With the changing and development of the revolutionary situation and the critical moment of the Party's survival, the resolution of the Gutian Conference held in December 1929 stipulated that Party members and the Red Army under their leadership must absolutely obey the leadership of the Party, and must strive wholeheartedly for the Party's program, line and policies. On July 7, 1937, after the Lugou Bridge Incident, the War of Resistance against Japanese Aggression broke out. In order to launch the whole nation to resist Japanese aggression, the anti-Japanese national united front was formed to jointly resist the Japanese imperialist aggression. In order to strengthen the cultivation of Party members and consolidate the Party building, on the eve of the liberation of Chongqing, many Communists imprisoned in Refuse Pit and White Mansion would rather die than reveal any secrets of the Party to interpret the loyalty of Party members.

According to the above data we can realize that in the new democratic revolution period, with MAO Zedong as the core of the first generation of party leadership, attaches great importance to the education of party members and cadres, the party loyalty as an important content of the needs of party members and cadres, with ideal faith and party constitution to party loyalty, loyalty for our early education, and enhance revolutionary cohesion and combat effectiveness to lay the ideological foundation.

1.2 Exploration and Adjustment in the Period of Socialist Revolution and Construction

In the period of socialist revolution and construction, the historical conditions and social environment in which the Party has changed. Therefore, Party building and loyalty to the Party also need to keep pace with The Times. Under the new historical conditions of comprehensive governance, how to inherit the fine tradition of loyalty to the Party and give it a new connotation in the new era is a brand new subject faced by the Chinese Communists. In order to make the party members in the socialist revolution and construction period to continue to practice the party loyalty discipline requirements, found and improve the leading cadres at all levels, the party analyzes the causes of the bad style, and according to the local different characteristics, the Yan'an rectification movement and the whole party movement throughout the whole process of cadre education. Mao Zedong, in the early days of the founding of the People's Republic of the Republic of China, pointed out that the appointment of Party cadres must put "loyalty is the first condition" first (Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 2013, p.188). On this basis, as the first Party Constitution formulated after the Communist Party of China, it directly put forward the specific requirements of the general public to join the Party, "be loyal and honest to the Party, do not conceal or distort the truthAnd to investigate the political quality of the probationary Party members." (The Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 1992, p.321) It can be seen that during this period, loyalty has become the basic requirement and principle of the Party, requiring Party members to hide nothing from the Party, be willing to accept any investigation of the Party, and match their words and deeds. "The request" (Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 2013, p.215).

Thus it can be seen that to clarify the connotation of loyalty to the party, it requires the majority of Party members and cadres to make more efforts in practice, and to strive to find and innovate the theoretical thinking coordinates, to improve the work style, to optimize the party organization construction, and to summarize the work in time, to facilitate the accumulation of experience. Since then, every key node, party members and cadres may appear the problem of ideological change, let party members earnestly study and implement the party's principles and policies, understand the connotation, will be gradually solved in the process of practice, firm the confidence of party members and cadres and confidence, prompted them to lead the national people unite in the construction of socialism. During the period of socialist revolution and socialist construction, the whole Party paid attention to strengthening its loyalty to the Party and standardizing Party members in strict accordance with the Party Constitution, showing vigorous vitality.

1.3 Improvement and Development in the New Period of Reform and Opening up

Since China's implementation of China's reform and opening up policy, the Party's historical position and ruling international and domestic environment have changed by not shifting from people's will. Deng Xiaoping once pointed out: "A conscious revolutionary should be loyal, wherever, under all circumstances, be loyal to the Party, speak honestly, act honestly, and be an honest man." (This Book Writing Group, 2007, p.169) In July 1979, Deng Xiaoping put forward two main criteria for selecting cadres, namely, "one is to support the political line and ideological line of the Third Plenary Session, and the other is to speak of loyalty, not sectarian". At the 14th National Congress of the Communist Party of China in 1992, Comrade Jiang Zemin clearly pointed out that his loyalty to the Party in the new era is "being loyal to Marxism and adhering to the path of socialism with Chinese characteristics." (The Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 1997, p.816) The Interim Regulations on the Selection and Appointment of Party and Government Leading Cadres formulated in February 1995 stipulates that the requirement of "loyalty to the Party" is fixed in the form of an intra-Party system. Through the whole party education to maintain communist party member advanced nature, thorough scientific development concept learning and practice activities, improve party innovation ability, to be excellent model activities, create learning party organization activities such as a series of activities, ideological build the theoretical basis of loyalty, in the process of practice of the party cadres to strengthen their self-consciousness, enhance the power to realize socialist modernization and contribute their youth and blood.

The above series of educational activities to develop loyalty to the Party is the process of finding specific problems, analyzing the causes of the problems, and then solving the problems. It is highly purposeful and targeted, which is a major measure for our Party based on the new stage of social development, and is a major measure to use the theory of adapting Marxism to solve the problems in our Party and then improve the combat effectiveness of the whole Party. To the center of the party in different historical periods as the guide to carry out the party's special education, is an effective form of strengthening party members and cadres to party loyalty education, realize the communist party of China forever as an advanced marxist political party leading the national people struggle together, realize the communist party of China eternal purity, fight against the corrupt elements within the party.

1.4 Innovation and Maturity in the New Era of Socialism With Chinese Characteristics

Since the 18th CPC National Congress, the CPC Central Committee with Comrade Xi Jinping at its core has taken effective and targeted measures to strengthen its loyalty to the Party, and has achieved remarkable results in advancing Party building. Only by truly understanding what the connotation of loyalty is, can we form a consensus among all Party members and consciously do it in practical work. General Secretary Xi Jinping has repeatedly stressed that ideals and beliefs should be closely linked with loyalty to the Party. He pointed out in the symposium that "Party members and cadres should be" absolutely loyal "to the Party." Absolute loyalty to the party is the key in the word "absolute", which is the only, thorough, unconditional, without any impurities, without any water of the loyalty. Party members and officials must use such standards to demand themselves, consciously maintain a high degree of unity with the CPC Central Committee in ideology, politics, and actions, resolutely do what it calls, and resolutely do what it does not allow." (The Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee, 2016, p.197) In addition, General Secretary Xi Jinping has also stressed that the loyalty of Party officials to the Party should focus on the courage to practice and take responsibility. Loyalty to the Party must start with sufficient." (Xi, 2020, p.100)

In general, this period to carry out a series of theme practice, reflects our party attaches great importance to the construction of party members and cadres, ready to find problems, analyze the cause of the phenomenon, carry out related theme practice, practice has proved that these theme education activities, carried out very timely, problem found very in place, achieved the expected effect. Further implement the comprehensive governing party era requirements, education guide party members the political discipline and rules in mind, always remind and spur themselves, by constantly strengthening all party members and cadres, especially senior cadres loyalty education, show the new era of party members and cadres to party loyalty, conscientious, bear for the people, for the benefit of the political ability.

2. THE MAIN ACHIEVEMENTS OF REFINING THE PRIMARY POLITICAL QUALITY OF CHINESE COMMUNISTS OVER THE PAST HUNDRED YEARS

Through a systematic combing of the historical context of the primary political quality of Chinese Communists over the past century, it can be seen that promoting the innovative way and development of the theory and practice of loyalty to the Party is an important way and way for the Party to strengthen its self-construction, effectively improve its governance ability and the party spirit cultivation of Party members. The communist party of China through one hundred development progress, history and practice has proved that our party's valuable experience in loyalty is constantly strengthen their own construction, build the base of party members and cadres, keep the party's ideological purity and good political ecological environment, lay the foundation of the party's unity, enhance the party's ability to deal with the test of various risks.

2.1 Strengthen the Ideals and Beliefs of the Communists, and Enhance the Combat Effectiveness and Cohesion of the Whole Party

General Secretary Xi Jinping has urged Party members to consciously strengthen their political experience, interpret their loyalty to the Party with their responsibility, and carry their loyalty to the Party through the Party's purposes. Historically, loyalty to the Party and the combat effectiveness and cohesion of the whole Party also have a high degree of dialectical unity. On the one hand, loyalty to the Party determines whether the Party's combat effectiveness can overcome various risk tests and reflects the cohesion of the whole Party; on the other hand, combat effectiveness and cohesion specifically reflect and maintain distinct loyalty. Through the improvement of the combat effectiveness and cohesion of the CPC, it also provides a dynamic theoretical basis for the continuous enrichment of loyalty connotation. According to the different historical missions of the Party in various historical periods, we should maintain and develop our loyalty to the Party through an important way to revise and improve the Party Constitution and the Party spirit education with a distinct theme. However, in general, we took strengthening the ideals and beliefs as the direction and goal of carrying out loyalty education, effectively promoted the ideals and beliefs of all Party members, and strengthened the combat effectiveness and cohesion of the organization. The reason why Chinese Communists faced difficulties and challenges in the past historical periods is because they took communist ideals and beliefs as the source of strength and spiritual motivation, and also provided lasting impetus for the CPC to apply theory and practice. Because the revolutionaries have formed their firm ideals and beliefs, Therefore, during the period when the revolutionary base area was established in Jinggangshan, Can do the door plate as a bed, with straw as a quilt cover, Then it ignited the spark of the revolution; On the slow Long March road, They can climb the insurmountable snow mountains, the dangerous grasslands, swallow the grass roots, and eat the bitter bark, Create an incredible human miracle; During the War of Resistance against Japanese Aggression, The majority of Party members and cadres can give top priority to the interests of the state, unite and cooperate among Party members, and actively organize everyone to carry out the War of Resistance against Japanese aggression, during which a large number of Party members and cadres made heroic sacrifices, Has made indelible historical achievements; By the time of the Liberation War, To strive for socialist democracy for the people, Make the whole society is in a state of peace and stability, oppose the dictatorship of the Kuomintang reactionaries led by Chiang Kai-shek, and the majority of Party members face all difficulties and obstacles, Work together and overcome many difficulties, All Party members have made great sacrifices, A new and new socialist China has been established. Especially after China's implementation of China's reform and opening up policy, countless Communists adhered to the communist ideals and beliefs, adhering to the concept of absolute loyalty to the Party, and constantly pioneering and innovative and selfless dedication in their work practice. Since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, the CPC Central Committee with Comrade Xi Jinping at its core has correctly analyzed and grasped the new historical orientation, closely combined the ideals and beliefs of Party members with the Party's ideological and political construction, and further optimized the way to realize loyalty to the Party. It provides fundamental guidelines for the practice of loyalty to the Party in the new era, and plays a very important role in enhancing the Party's combat effectiveness and cohesion in the new era.

2.2 Shape the Political Soul of the CPC and Consolidate the Unity and Unity of the Whole Party

Looking back at the Party's struggle in a century of years, loyalty to the Party always shapes the political soul of the Party and strengthens the unity and unity of the whole Party together and promotes each other, and jointly serves the eternal issue of the Party's great project. Any political party has its own political attributes very different from others, while establishing the political mission, political goals and political pursuits that it should shoulder in different eras. As General Secretary Xi Jinping has pointed out, "A political party must have its own political soul." (Xi, 2020, p.505) Our Party combines the prominent problems in its times, and moved forward the theory and practice of loyalty to the Party. Thus it can be seen that only by shaping the primary political quality of Party members' loyalty to the Party can we build the political soul of the political party and the unity and unity within the Party be enhanced. Theoretically, the forging of the primary political quality of all Party members is related to the shaping of the political soul of the Communist Party of China and the unity and unity of the whole Party. Reviewing all of the Party's previous study and education activities, with the theme of strengthening loyalty education for Party members, we guided Party members to adhere to the political quality of Communists, and effectively consolidated the unity and unity of the whole Party. For example, the rectification movement in the Yan'an period was a new exploration for our Party to solve the prominent problems of ideological inconsistency within the Party during the revolutionary war, to maintain the unity and unity within the Party, and to sublimate the political soul of the Communist Party members. The rectification movement carried out the educational activities of study style, Party style and style of study, which effectively unified the ideological understanding of the Party's theory and practice, strengthened the leading position of the Party, tempered the political soul of the Communist Party members, and maintained the unity and unity of the Party.

2.3 Purifying the Party's Political Ecology and Forging the Political Discipline and Rules of the Whole Party

Throughout the party's hundred years of struggle, in order to realize the virtuous circle of the party's political ecology, the Communist Party of China has always strictly enforced the political discipline and political rules of the whole Party has always attached great importance to educating and guiding the role consciousness of Party members and establish their political responsibility, and working in a harmonious political environment. The specific performance of the political quality of Party members determines whether the Party's political ecology is harmonious, especially in the revolutionary period, it needs to be prepared for sacrifice at any time. Therefore, this revolutionary spirit must be constantly strengthened and formed in the Party's political life. By seriously and seriously treating intraparty political activities, Party members should shape their sense of role and enhance their political responsibility. Under any circumstances, no matter how much danger we face, we should always put the interests of the Party in the highest position in our hearts, and always align with the pace of the Party at all times. When its loyalty to the Party will achieve good results, the whole Party unites, and the Party work style is clear, the CPC will lead the people in accomplishing its historical tasks as scheduled. On the contrary, if we do not pay attention to loyalty construction, we will inevitably lose the direction of party construction and lose our due results. According to the relevant discussion of the basic principles of Marxism, the working class has the characteristics of strict organizational structure and strict discipline, which represents the forward direction of China's advanced productive forces. But as a country with farmers as the majority of the population, there is impossible to form a large working-class contingent in China. In the new era of reform, opening up and modernization, the international situation has undergone profound changes. The world pattern, development trend and communication behavior and methods between countries are constantly turning points, changing and adjusting. The communist party of China as the only ruling party in China, long control the state power, easy to make some party members and cadres in work lax psychology lax, breeding bad work style, its rigid thought, faith, organization, finally corruption, so only persistent strict ideal faith exercise, to enhance the party's cohesion and combat effectiveness. To improve the quality of Party building in the new era is to show it through the long-term and hard loyalty to Party members and officials. Over the past hundred years, Chinese Communists have always insisted that loyalty to the Party is not personal spontaneous behavior, but a conscious behavior formed by scientific theory. After the revolutionary forging in different historical periods, they gradually clarified the internal elements of loyalty quality and deepened their understanding of the scientific and practical nature of strengthening loyalty to the Party.

3. BASIC EXPERIENCE OF CHINESE COMMUNISTS IN FORGING THE PRIMARY POLITICAL QUALITY OVER THE PAST HUNDRED YEARS

In the course of the Party's century-old development, the political quality of loyalty to the Party is the spiritual driving force for generation after generation of Chinese Communists to overcome various difficulties, twists and turns and win great new victories. During the period of the new democratic revolution, countless Communist Party members, in order to see the dawn of the new revolution victory, fought hard to create the "great achievements of the new democratic revolution". During the period of socialist revolution and construction, our Party adhered to the mass line, always maintained flesh-and-blood ties with the people, aroused the enthusiasm of the people for building the motherland, gathered the united steel Great Wall of the people, and made brilliant achievements in economy, politics, culture, society and ecology. In this process, he has made "great achievements in socialist revolution and construction" and "great achievements in reform, opening up and socialist modernization drive". On the new journey of realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, forging the primary political quality of Party members and cadres to Party loyalty, we must adhere to the leadership of the Party and resolutely give the "two maintenance" in the first place, put hard dedication and firmly establish the "responsibility as", and practice the purpose and adhere to the "people first" throughout. Therefore, the systematic and in-depth summary of our Party's experience of strengthening loyalty to the Party has profound enlightenment significance to continue to promote the construction of the primary political quality of Communists in the new era.

3.1 Loyalty to the Party We Should Give Top Priority to Upholding the Leadership of the Party and Resolutely Upholding the "Two Safeguards"

The distinctive characteristic of loyalty to the Party is the dynamic development interpretation, with corresponding requirements according to different historical periods and different demands of The Times. It is an important historical experience of China in all periods of revolution, construction and reform to put the specific practice of loyalty to the Party on upholding the Party leadership and resolutely thinking and grasp with the thinking of “two maintenance”. Although the Party requires Party members to have different standards of loyalty to the Party at different historical stages, it consistently requires them to adhere to the leadership of the Party and resolutely uphold the “two principles”. During the new democratic revolution, the party central committee with MAO Zedong as the core with the “tick, tick” radio voice command throughout the country, “tick” is not just a voice, but the party’s order, for the whole party and army, is on behalf of chairman MAO and the party central committee’s voice, the voice is command, all orders must be executed unconditionally, realize the Chinese nation has a place in the world, all the people at the same time. After the founding of the People’s Republic of China, the communist party of China put the construction of a new socialist China in the top position, in the face of poor economic situation, brave difficulties, burden, with the confidence to win, insist on their own strength of economic development, cast the great achievements of the socialist revolution and construction.” Since the reform and opening up, Deng Xiaoping stressed that Party members and cadres must obey the organization, the minority must obey the majority, the subordinate subordinate, and the whole Party must obey the central government.” (Literature Research Office of the CPC Central Committee , 2011, p.288) In the new era, we will emancipate our mind, forge ahead with determination, and unswervingly advance reform and opening up. In the face of risks and challenges from all aspects, we have developed a new realm of theory and practice of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, the Party has faced major issues such as “four tests” and “four risks”, firmly establishing the “Four Consciousness”, upholding the leadership of the Party, resolutely maintaining the “two maintenance”, and realizing its mission of governance. On the one hand, this is the key path to realize the common interests of all Chinese sons and daughters, and to keep the cause of the Party and the country forward in the right direction; on the other hand, it is also the common political responsibility of the whole Party to unify our thinking around the CPC Central Committee and strengthen and safeguard the centralized and unified leadership of the CPC Central Committee. This requires all Party members and cadres to be loyal to the Party, with one heart and one mind, unite as one and step in step, and enhance their ideological and action consciousness of upholding their original aspiration and mission. In short, the specific connotation and practice of loyalty to the Party over the past hundred years have given top priority to upholding the leadership of the Party and resolutely upholding the “two maintenance”, and effectively enhanced the Party’s cohesion and combat effectiveness.

3.2 Be loyal to the Party to Implement Hard Work and Dedication and Firmly Establish “Responsibility”

Loyalty to the Party refers to unconditional loyalty to the Party, an ideological preparation in the face of specific circumstances, and a guide to action in practice. It is not abstract and difficult to understand or conditional. Chinese Communists have always loved the Party, served the country and dedication as the eternal goal of life, one after another, dare to sacrifice, pioneering and unswervingly, carrying forward the selfless dedication spirit of “I will live without me, live up to the people” proposed by General Secretary Xi Jinping and the fighting spirit of “dare to teach the sun and the moon for the new sky” proposed by MAO zedong. In the new era not only puts forward specific requirements for the Party’s organizational line, but also clearly puts forward the standards for good cadres. China’s revolution, construction, reform, rejuvenation created great achievements, because the Chinese communists bear as deeply rooted in the cause of the party and the country, bear historical mission, grasp historical initiative, all sacrifice, dedication, struggle, reform in line with the fundamental interests of the masses, won the recognition and support of the people, lead the people to draw the magnificent chapter of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. In the context of great changes unseen in the world in a century, in the face of COVID-19 and the global epidemic, every Communist should not be affected by changes in the external environment, always remain loyal to the Party, stay true to the original aspiration, keep their mission firmly in mind, answer the issues of The Times, and make historical choices. Deep understanding of new contradictions new challenges, to use heavy weight, hard work, overcome difficult practical action as a whole normalized precise prevention and control and emergency disposal, the epidemic prevention and control and economic and social development both overall coordination, find the law of both development, go hand in hand, mutual promotion, common development, but also reflects the communist party loyalty to the party, the sincere heart of the people.

3.3 Loyalty to the Party Throughout the Practice of Its Purpose and Upholding the “People First”

The people’s position is the starting point and foothold of our loyalty to the Party. Once we lose the people’s position and become divorced from the people, our loyalty to the Party will lose its foundation and blood. The century-old journey of the Communist Party of China inspires us that we need to share with the people, share our destiny and be heart to heart with the people. The practical actions of benefiting the people have explained the lofty quality of Communist loyalty to the people. During the period of the new democratic revolution, Mao Zedong and other older generation of Communists “take the hearts of the people” reflected the ideal and faith of serving the people wholeheartedly, and did “die for the people, although die still glorious”. In the new period of reform and opening up and socialist modernization, Deng Xiaoping pointed out the principle of Communist Party members in practical work, that is, we must consider the feelings of the masses, support, approve, happy, agree or not. Comrade Jiang Zemin proposed that our Party should always represent the fundamental interests of the overwhelming majority of the Chinese people and achieve the unity of theory and practice. Comrade Hu Jintao pointed forward that we must take realizing the fundamental interests of the overwhelming majority of the people, safeguard and develop the overwhelming majority of the people as the starting point and goal of all our work. Socialism with Chinese characteristics into a new era, the party central committee with comrade xi as the core clearly put forward “people’s yearning for a better life, is our goal”, lead the whole party and the whole country people all the way to overcome difficulties, thorns, achieved the first goal in one hundred, open a new journey of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Party members and cadres wanting to overcome all risks and challenges can only do so by putting the people in the highest position in their minds. Otherwise, we will work very passive and have little effect. Any time to keep in mind for the people’s beginner’s mind, practice for the mission of rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, to serve the people throughout the entrepreneurship, make it into every party member’s conscious life pursuit, actively involved in hot practice, to solve the present main contradiction in our country as the goal, to achieve the common prosperity of all the people as a guide to action. We will embody the role of loyalty to the Party in the great cause of national rejuvenation and the happiness of the people, and gather the great strength to realize the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.
